

Campus Connection

January 24, 2017

Volume 3, Issue 2

From the President's Office

Dear Campus Community,

Welcome back to our beautiful campus and the beginning of a new year. I am excited about the coming semester and happy to report that we are seeing our enrollment level off a bit. We have not turned the corner completely, but our predictions were far worse than a new reality of about a 3% drop in student credit hours compared to the same time last spring. I am optimistic that we are applying some sound strategies to begin a growth pattern and feel confident that we are approaching a logical student population number relative to our service area.

I also want to thank each of you for working so hard to be a better campus for our students. I am receiving feedback from the community that has a different tone than some months ago. The questions are still difficult and remind me we have a lot of work to do in educating the community about what we can and cannot do. But, I hear a sense of pride, hope, and well wishes directed to the success of the campus that was lacking to a certain degree before. Thank you again and keep up the good work. We have amazing faculty and staff.

We are just about to experience our Higher Learning Commission site visit February 13 and 14. I am sure there will be some difficult questions about our campus. Our plan is to be honest and transparent concerning our challenges and accomplishments. The last visit revealed a serious problem with the quality of our online courses. That concern has, in a matter of three short years, been essentially eliminated to the point that we are now the campus that the system looks to for online advice. All faculty who have designed online courses that have been Quality Matter certified deserve a huge thank you. I will say one more time, the leadership that Sherrell Wheeler has shown in this endeavor has been stellar. I suspect there will be issues that the HLC team will highlight as our next challenges, and I anticipate that we will hit those head on with the same intensity that we did with our online courses.

My only request during the HLC visit is that you are available to visit with the site team to answer any questions about our challenges and goals as we move forward.

Wishing you a great Spring 2017.

FAFSA® Changes for 2017-18

On Sept. 14, 2015, President Obama announced significant changes to the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®) process that will impact millions of students. Starting with the 2017-18 application cycle, the following changes will be put in place:

- Students will be able to submit a FAFSA® earlier. Students will be able to file a 2017-18 FAFSA as early as Oct. 1, 2016, rather than beginning on Jan. 1, 2017. The earlier submission date will be a permanent change, enabling students to complete and submit a FAFSA earlier every year. (There is NO CHANGE to the 2016-17 schedule. The FAFSA became available January 1 as in previous years.)
- Students will use earlier income information. Beginning with the 2017-18 FAFSA, students will be required to report income information from an earlier tax year. For example, on the 2017-18 FAFSA, students (and parents, as appropriate) will report their 2015 income information, rather than their 2016 income information.

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF INSTITUTIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

A Bit of News from the Land of Education Degrees

NMSU-A has partnered up with Alamogordo Public Schools (APS) in an initiative to help folks currently employed as Educational Assistants (EA) within APS return to school and start or continue their journeys toward earning a Bachelor's Degree in either Early Childhood Education or Elementary Education. As you probably know, both New Mexico and the nation currently have a severe shortage of qualified licensed teachers, so we are working to "grow our own". If you see any of these folks on campus, please welcome them to our academic community!

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

March 1 is the Deadline for Two NMSU Women's Club Scholarships

The NMSU Women's Club Scholarships are open to any female NMSU undergraduate student at the main campus or branch campuses who is returning to school after a break in her education (either after high school or after starting college). These scholarships have been set up specifically for returning students because students immediately out of high school have other opportunities, such as the lottery scholarship, available to them. Candidates must have completed at least 45 credit hours and have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher.

The Ruth Mary Webber Scholarship application is also due March 1. The NMSU Women's Club is committed to supporting single mothers with dependent children in attaining their educational goals. This scholarship is sponsored by Susan DeMar in honor of her late mother. The Club's Scholarship Committee will recommend one candidate for the Ruth Mary Webber Scholarship. The winner is awarded $250 and invited to attend the Club's spring luncheon.

The Ruth Mary Webber Scholarship is open to female NMSU undergraduate students at the main Las Cruces campus only. Each candidate must be a single or widowed mother with dependent children who reside with her and have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher.

Below are links to the respective scholarship applications. Instructions for completion and where to submit are included in the application.

Along with the "Ask the Expert" sessions, organizations can request tables to provide information to students. The Small Business Development Center, Allied Health, and Automotive have requested tables.

TIPS FROM THE STUDENT SERVICES DEPARTMENT

The Importance of Getting Involved in Student Organizations

The spring semester is in full swing, and hopefully all of our students are adapting to their busy schedules and finding the balance between family, work, school, and personal time. So, when students are asked to consider joining student organizations such as Student Government or the Social Science Club, it is no surprise to us that the first response we often hear is, "I'm sorry, but I just don't have time for that this semester!" Believe us, the last thing we want is for your grades to suffer because of additional responsibilities. We would, however, like for you to consider the following list of just a few of the benefits of serving in a student organization.

- You can be as involved as you want to be. Be honest with yourself and with the advisors and others on the organizations you are interested in. If you want to participate, but can only attend meetings occasionally, say so. If you can attend meetings but cannot commit to weekend activities, be honest. Find an organization that has the right amount of activities to fit your interests, schedule, and needs. There are many out there. If not, start your own! Judy Garcia in Student Services can help you get started with that. You can email her at judgarci@nmsu.edu or call her at (575) 439-3716.
- You can have some fun while providing service in your community. Give back to your community by helping those in need. It is an awesome feeling and a great use of your time. Service increases the feeling of self-confidence and can make everyone happy. It also reduces stress, helps bring people closer, and promotes a "pay-it-forward" attitude. You can make a difference, and you can have fun doing it.
- You will gain networking experience. Make connections and build relationships with other students on and off campus and with professionals in the community. This is important not only while you are a student, but it could also help you later when you are looking for a job.
- You can gain leadership skills. For many college students, serving as an officer in a student organization is the first opportunity one has to be in a leadership role. This can be the perfect environment to learn, practice, and sharpen these skills.
- You will build your professional resume. Without a doubt, serving in organizations and on committees looks awesome on your resume. It shows potential employers that you are responsible, that you can handle multiple assignments, and that you are willing to work hard and go the extra mile. When a large number of people apply for one job opening, having student organization experience listed on your resume will help set you apart from other applicants.

There are many other reasons to consider joining one of the student organizations at NMSU-A. Check with your instructor for information about what student organization opportunities are available on campus this semester, or contact Judy Garcia at judgarci@nmsu.edu or (575) 439-3716.

FACILITIES UPDATE

Facilities Update

This spring, we will be doing some minor renovations to the Art Center restrooms. The restrooms will be closed during this time. All foot traffic will be redirected to the ProTech restrooms.

Bids are in and demo work will begin shortly in the Deli. Several new pieces of kitchen equipment have been ordered and are already on site. Anticipated completion date for the renovation is June 1, 2017. The building and the smoke gazebo will be completely closed. The area behind the Deli will be the staging area for the construction project and will therefore be closed off for safety reasons. The sidewalk from the Library to the CB Building on the east side will be closed down. Please use the sidewalk on the west side (near Student Services) to walk between CB and Library. In addition, please use the smoke gazebo behind the Science Center or the picnic table behind the Faculty Office to smoke until the project is completed.

We are excited that GO Bond C passed in November and that we can begin designing for several new roofs. We are in the process of hiring an architect. The plan is to replace the roofs of the ProTech North, the Art Center, portions of the Adult Education and possibly the Physical Plant. We must go through three layers of approval (BOR, HED, SBOF) before the construction documents can go out to bid. We are planning to replace/repair all roofs simultaneously between May and August, 2017.

Reminder: All inventory surplus must go through Brenda Ramos's office for documentation processes prior to PPD being contacted.

FIRST Tech Challenge

Congratulations to all of the FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) teams who competed in the December 21st robotics tournament at the Tays Center hosted by NMSU-A. This was the first time that Alamogordo has had the opportunity to host an FTC tournament. Nine teams competed; 5 local teams, 2 from Mexico and 2 from elsewhere in NM. More than 70 volunteers made the event run smoothly for approximately 100 students who competed or volunteered. The event attracted close to 100 spectators, in spite of a rainy blustery New Mexico day.

The event opened with brief comments from NMSU-A President Dr. Ken Van Winkle, Holloman Air Force Base Colonel Houston Cantwell, and U.S. Representative of New Mexico, Congressman Steve Pearce. The event was led by Alamogordo FIRST Robotics FRC Team 5613 ThunderDogs and FTC Team 8895 R2D2 with help from the Coconuts FRC 2486 from Flagstaff, Arizona. A special thank you to the behind-the-scenes help from the staff at NMSU-A for their work with setup and with audio visual.

We wish the qualifying teams who are competing in Flagstaff on February 24-25 the best of luck, and we look forward to another wonderful event next year.

For more information on FIRST, check out: www.firstinspires.org. For more information on local teams or to become a volunteer, contact Cindy at 921-3293.

Part 2 of John Ely's "Comparing Religion" sequence focuses on Hinduism, arguably the world's oldest and most diverse religion.

Hinduism has some features similar to Judaism (with its emphasis on law and structured ritual), Islam (with its emphasis on devotional practices), and Buddhism (with its emphases on meditation, karma and rebirth, and a large monastic community). Hinduism is characterized by an archaic religious canon (the fourfold Veda) that was reinterpreted by successive cultures (Brahmanas, Aranyakas, Upanishads), a stunningly diverse pantheon wherein each deity has His/Her own complex collection of mythologies (Puranas and Epics), a body of transgressive practices related to yoga and alchemy, and a highly sophisticated theology (Vedanta). Hinduism witnessed a global diaspora beginning in the early 20th century and is now well-established all over the world. In this segment of Comparing Religions, we will explore the history, philosophy, practices, evolution and worldview of this great world religion.

RIDIN' THE RANGE

WITH NEW MEXICO'S COWBOYS

Instructor: Pete Eidenbach

The historic New Mexico cattle industry was a recent development, beginning with the Goodnight-Loving Trail in 1866. As range and weather conditions deteriorated in West Texas, many ranchers began to relocate westward into southern

New Mexico where above average rainfall had produced a wealth of ungrazed grassland. The proverbial western cowboy was born here during the short period between the end of the Civil War and the beginning of the new 20th century. Join local historian Pete Eidenbach and visit New Mexico's early ranches, meet some of these unusual cowmen, and learn about their impact on western music, cuisine, politics, and education. Class will include extensive slide show presentations.
